

■ A Happy Day Adventure ■

The golden sun began to glow,
And painted smiles on earth below.

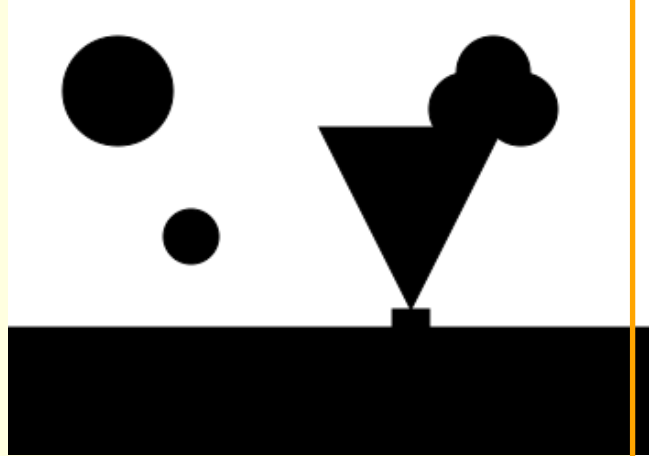

A little bird sang in a tree,
"Come play outside and run with me!"

The flowers danced in colors bright,
Red, yellow, pink, and pure delight.

The clouds sailed slowly through the sky,
Like fluffy boats drifting by.

The children laughed and jumped around,
Finding treasures on the ground.

As stars appeared and day was done,
They dreamed again of all the fun.
